BURLINGTON, Mass. and JERUSALEM, Sept. 20, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- BrainsWay Ltd. (NASDAQ & TASE: BWAY) ("BrainsWay" or the "Company"), a world leader in advanced and noninvasive treatment for brain disorders, announced that its President and CEO, Christopher von Jako, PhD, was named an honorary cochair of NAMIWalks Silicon Valley. The National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) organizes NAMIWalks Your Way events around the country each year to increase mental health awareness, build community, and help raise funds for programs. The Silicon Valley Walk will be Saturday, October 1, 2022.

"I am honored to be part of this extremely important event, which aligns with BrainsWay's goal of raising awareness about mental illness and increasing access to mental health resources. I am inspired by the work NAMI does for mental health around the country, and I am looking forward to joining forces at the NAMI Silicon Valley walk," said Dr. von Jako.

He added, "NAMI Walks are wonderful opportunities to meet patients, families, and providers to hear their stories, and work together for a brighter future. I encourage everyone in Silicon Valley to participate in the Walk, taking steps as a community to improve mental healthcare for all."

Rovina Nimbalkar, Executive Director of NAMI Santa Clara County, said, "We are honored to have Christopher von Jako as our honorary chair for NAMIWalks Silicon Valley and we are excited about our collaboration with BrainsWay. NAMIWalks Silicon Valley is our biggest fundraiser, and after two years we are going to walk in person. The last two years have been particularly difficult for people with a mental health diagnosis, and we walk to honor them and to create awareness for mental illness."

The October 1 event will be in San Jose's History Park from 9:00am – 1:00pm PST. In addition to Dr. von Jako, members of the mental health team of the San Francisco Giants will speak at the event, including Drew Robinson, Dr. Emily Payette, Minor League Mental Health Coordinator, and Dr. Shana Alexander, Director of Mental Health, Wellness, and EAP. NAMI is the nation's largest grassroots mental health organization dedicated to building better lives for the millions of Americans affected by mental illness.
